Certificate of employment

Reference 2026-0184, issued 4 February 2026

This sheet claims the first part of the archival standard, at the level that promises the look of the page and nothing else. Every face it draws with is carried inside the file, every colour says what it means, and nothing on the page waits on a program, a network or a font that happens to be installed. The first part is also the strictest: nothing here is painted so that what lies behind it shows through, no part of the page can be switched off, and no file travels inside the document. A record that needs any of those claims a later part instead.
